

Three emails the API has to send

Table-based, inline-styled, 560px — nothing a Nest mailer template can't render. No flex, no grid, no CSS variables, no media queries beyond one stacking rule. Each page shows the rendered email and the Handlebars context the service passes in; the `.hbs` files live in `emails/`.

One tap and Milo's tag goes live

Hi Sarah — welcome to Pawtato. Confirm this email address and your pets' QR tags start working straight away.

Verify my email

This link expires in 24 hours. If the button doesn't work, paste this into your browser:

<https://pawtato.app/verify?token=demo>

Next: add a pet, then link the code printed on the back of your tag. Takes about a minute.

Didn't sign up? Ignore this email and nothing happens.

verify-email.hbs

Subject — Verify your email to activate your Pawtato tags

Context — name, verifyUrl, expiresIn

Sent from the register handler. Token single-use; resend allowed once a minute.

Let's get you back in

Hi Sarah — someone asked to reset the password for this account. If that was you, pick a new one here.

Choose a new password

This link expires in 1 hour and can be used once. If the button doesn't work:

<https://pawtato.app/reset?token=demo>

Didn't ask for this? Nothing has changed yet — you can safely ignore this email. Your pets' pages are unaffected.

forgot-password.hbs

Subject — Reset your Pawtato password

Context — name, resetUrl, expiresIn, requestContext

Always return 200 from the endpoint whether or not the address exists; only send when it does.

password-reset.hbs

Subject — Your Pawtato password was changed

Context — name, changedAt, requestContext, loginUrl

Fire after the password is persisted and refresh tokens are revoked — never before.

Notes for the Nest side

Drop the three `.hbs` files into `src/mail/templates/` and point `MailerModule's HandlebarsAdapter` at that folder. Every style is inline, so no CSS inliner is needed; the only `<style>` block is one `max-width` rule for phones. Caprasimo isn't loadable in mail clients, so headings fall back to Georgia — that's intentional, not a gap. Swap the wordmark for a hosted PNG later if you want the potato in there (SVG doesn't render in Outlook).

Each template also has a plain-text sibling worth adding for deliverability — same copy, no markup. Keep tokens out of query strings in logs, and rate-limit resends.
